El Cuarto Año High School

Powered by Google Translate

High school is not the same journey for everyone — but traditional schools often treat it that way. Whether it's due to impersonal classes, absent counseling, family challenges, or children of one's own, not everyone reaches graduation the same way. Association House offers a new path to 17- to 21-year-olds in Chicago who have been left behind by traditional public schools, and provides an opportunity to earn a high school diploma. Our team of certified teachers, mentors, and support personnel tailor their services to each student's academic and social needs and follow a regular school calendar. El Cuarto Año collaborates with Youth Connection Charter Schools, Alternative Schools Network, and Chicago Public Schools.

Family Literacy Program

The Family Literacy Program targets children (0 – 5) of parenting students enrolled in the El Cuarto Año High School to address educational attainment for two generations at once. We provide daily on-site child care, early childhood education, family literacy activities, and parenting workshops on a schedule that is complimentary to the high school schedule– Monday through Thursday from 9:00am-3:30pm and Friday from 9:00am-12:00pm.
