

Volunteers Needed

The Illinois Supreme Court Commission on Access to Justice promotes equal access to justice in Illinois civil courts for court users with disabilities.

The Commission creates court forms to make it easier for people without lawyers to participate in the civil court system in many legal areas.

Volunteers with disabilities are needed to test these forms.

Getting Started

Volunteer form testers must have a disability but do not have to be familiar with the law to participate. For this session, testers will be asked to complete forms related to accommodations for people with disabilities at court.

Register to participate at ilcourts.info/DisabilityUserTesting or call August Hieber at 312-646-0250. NOTE: Volunteers will need to share their disability at registration.

What Is Involved

You will read instructions, be asked to complete forms, and participate in a survey and feedback session. You do not need background knowledge about the forms. We will provide all of the information you need to complete the tasks.

WHEN: September 12, 3:00 PM -4:30 PM

WHERE: Metropolitan Family Services - North Center
3249 North Central Avenue, Chicago, Illinois 60634

After the Test

All participants will receive a $50 gift card at the completion of the session.

Your feedback will be used by the Commission to improve its forms. No further time commitment is required.

Please note: This is not a legal clinic. Lawyers will not be present to answer legal questions.
